

Dick (Richard) Ryan was a field Archaeologist in the American SW for 10 years. He received a Masters in Archaeology from NAU in 1983, at age 39. As an Archaeologist, he worked for Desert Research Institute, the Museum of N. Arizona, a number of Contract Archaeology companies, and was a government Archaeologist with Prescott National Forest in 1987 and 1988. His main area of interest: Ice Age Mammoth hunters of the Paleoindian Period. He has published in professional journals including Nevada Archaeologist, Current Research in the Pleistocene, Journal of California and Great Basin Anthropology, and The Journal of the Southwest.

He has resided in Arizona for 50 years and since the early 90's, has made a living as a promoter of Mata Ortiz pottery, but has remained active in Archaeology.

